Ukuleles

Relevance
Now	Children enjoy singing in a group. Children learn how to hold the ukulele, play chords and strum the ukulele developing their confidence playing other string instruments. Children have increased confidence and a greater understanding of reading musical notation. Children understand and appreciate how artists all over the world compose music using the same notation, chords and lyric writing.
Future	Children enjoy making music, either alone or part of an ensemble; music can help improve children's well-being and influence mood.
Aspiration	Children play professionally – either as a soloist or part of a larger group, or join an amateur group for pleasure.
